

Start-ups – What does it take to succeed!

Since the 1990's when the phrase became popular, this vehicle has become one of the most popular platforms to start and sustain new businesses specially when the growth potential appears high.

What makes a start-up successful? It depends on whom you ask. This presentation will try and capture the essence of what in my experience makes a start-up successful.